WELCOME CLASS OF 2022

Facilities & Campus Services is happy to welcome more than 1,400 first-year students to their new home at Wake Forest! On August 22, 2018, after weeks of preparation, it was an “all hands on deck” for the #wfumovein event. F&CS team members dedicated their day to helping the families of freshman students navigate the bustling move-in process, while also assisting the students in becoming adjusted to their new living space. You can learn more about the families that arrived in the Wake Forest Magazine article: Move In 2018.

F&CS staff simultaneously coordinated incoming traffic, parking, recycling, waste collection, and routine clean-up. View photos taken during the event on WFU F&CS Flickr. Using the hashtag #wfu22, students and staff posted about their experiences during one of the busiest and most exciting days of the year in real-time on social media. To see our team in action, watch the time-lapse video: Move In 2018 and remember to subscribe to our YouTube channel to keep up-to-date with future videos. Great job, team!

As always, you may bring your partner, spouse, or financial decision maker with you to the meeting.

SALEM HALL RENOVATION COMPLETE

The renovation of the original 1955 Salem Hall building, home to the WFU Chemistry department, was finished in August 2018. The completion of the programming and continued design process focused on teaching and research lab renewal, office renewal, and ensuring code compliance on all aspects of the building.

This year-long project started in the summer of 2017, with the Chemistry department faculty, staff, and students relocating to different areas on or around the WFU Reynolda campus. We are excited to have the department back home in their new, enhanced areas that match Wake Downtown in equipment, lab, and furniture standards.

Read more about it in Wake Forest News and the Triad Business Journal.

CHECK ENGINE LIGHT

The Facilities & Campus Services Fleet team held a PDC class ‘Check Engine Light’ on July 19, 2018, with around 18 people in attendance. Mark Shouse and Mark Beckerdite (pictured below) engaged the group on common car maintenance and parts. A wonderful class/event where each attendee received a car care booklet and a flashlight/tool keychain to take home!

WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY UNITY PROJECT

The F&CS Landscape and Customer Service teams worked with the Intercultural Center to bring the global movement of UNITY to Wake Forest University.

Paul Sheff, Operations Manager for Landscaping and Special Events, states: “The unity project for our team meant more than just constructing 32 poles in a round frame for an art project—it meant that we are all connected and that our diversity builds a strong, vibrant community! UNITY is a larger-than-life structure that helps us celebrate our uniqueness and strengthens our ties to each other.”

Thank you, Intercultural Center, for the appreciation breakfast provided to the participants that helped bring this project together and for the beautiful framed piece of art (made from the recycled project yarn) which is now housed in the F&CS display case.

Read more about it in Wake Forest News and the WFMY News 2 Channel.

Energy Savings

Wake Forest University saved 1,700,000 kwh of electricity in 2018, according to Doug Ecklund, Building Systems Manager. Doug attributes the savings mainly due to installation of LED lighting on campus, optimization of the chiller plants, and the Building Performance Improvement Initiative (BPII).
