

Taina M Diaz-Reyes

Winston-Salem, NC • (301) 448-6349 • diaztml6@wfu.edu

Education

Wake Forest University School of Divinity and Graduate School of Arts and Sciences

MDiv/MA in Sustainability dual degree candidate, Expected Graduation: December 2019

The George Washington University, Washington, DC

BA in Geography and Sustainability, Cum Laude

Experience

Wake Forest University School of Divinity, Winston-Salem, NC

Student Sustainability Coordinator

- Drafting a syllabus and organizing travel arrangements for a spring break travel course focusing on food, sustainability, and social injustice
- Overseeing school's recycling and composting commitment
- Advising admissions on making the school more sustainable
- Reducing waste of resources (paper, food, etc.)
- Encouraging more sustainable business partnerships

US Census Bureau, Suitland, MD

Pathways Intern, Geography Division, June 2014 — Present

- Production in Census GIS systems
- Validating spatial location Census data
- Independent research
- Project development

Student Conservation Association, Arlington, VA

Administrative Assistant, September 2013 — March 2014

- Event planning
- Environmental education, including participating in SCA programming and volunteer days
- Researching potential partnerships for the organization's programs
- Map creation
- Organizing and archiving old SCA materials

Greenpeace Frontline, Washington, DC

Canvasser, May 2013 — Jun 2013

- Recruiting new Greenpeace membership through use of campaign strategy

Skills & Additional Info

- Microsoft Office, Google Drive
- Youth Leader, Xcite Student Ministries, Maranatha Fellowship, College Park, MD (June 2010-August 2016)
- Diaz-Reyes, T. (April, 2012). The Effect of Edge on the Biodiversity of Trees in Greenbelt Park.
- Excellent organizational, editing, research, and planning skills, as well as excellent interpersonal skills, including verbal and written communication