THE HONORING OF RETIRING FACULTY

REYNOLDA CAMPUS

Wake Forest University honors Bobbie L. Collins, M.S.L.S., for twenty-five years of dedicated service to the students, faculty and staff of Wake Forest University; for her passion in teaching information literacy skills and helping students as they maneuver the complexities of academic research; for her guidance and mentoring of so many of her fellow library faculty; for her unflappable spirit and willingness to do whatever it takes to further the mission of the Z. Smith Reynolds Library: to help its students, faculty and staff succeed.

Wake Forest University honors Ronald V. Dimock, Jr., Ph.D., for forty-five years of distinguished service, including as the Thurman D. Kitchin Professor of Biology; for his deep knowledge of biology and natural history that inspired many generations of Wake Forest students; for his award-winning teaching and mentoring of students; for his leadership as chair and in the development of graduate and undergraduate programs; for his service to numerous professional societies; for his contributions to our understanding of invertebrate biology that resulted in a freshwater mite being named in his honor: Unionicola dimocki Vidrine in the subgenus Dimockatax.

Wake Forest University honors Jack D. Ferner, M.B.A., for forty-four years of tireless instruction and mentoring to the students at the School of Business whom he challenged to rise above their own expectations; for his dedicated service to the institution, as Dean in the school’s early history and subsequently through his leadership roles on a wide range of school committees and initiatives; for his expertise in strategic planning and economic analysis; and for being a kind, caring, thoughtful colleague who dispenses wisdom with dignity, grace and humor.

Wake Forest University honors J. Kendall Middaugh, II, Ph.D., for twenty-seven years of commitment and dedication to the students of the School of Business, where his passion for teaching and genuine interest in student success provided valuable and rewarding learning experiences; for his distinguished service to the institution that helped improve our academic community, our national brand, and enhanced our culture, making us a far better place; for his unwavering and significant administrative leadership contributions; and for being a genuinely collegial professor, mentor and friend.

Wake Forest University honors James T. Powell, Ph.D., for twenty-seven years of unstinting labor in the cause of introducing Wake Forest students to the priceless heritage of the Greek and Latin languages and to the literatures written in those languages; for his devotion to honor in the academic community and in his personal life; for his eloquent testimony to the importance of humanitas as a goal of education; for his widely acknowledged excellence in teaching, advising and contributions to student life; for the virtues of integrity, generosity and intellectual rigor that he consistently displays.

Wake Forest University honors David P. Weinstein, Ph.D., for twenty-six years of service to the profession, his students, the Department of Politics and International Affairs, and the cause of transparent faculty governance; for his internationally renowned scholarship on Utilitarianism, British Liberalism and the work of Jewish Intellectuals exiled from Germany; for organizing important international conferences with wide-ranging impact on the study of political theory; for consistently challenging his students to think about contemporary issues through a theoretical and ethical lens; and for his unwavering commitment to his ideals.

THE WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY MACE

The Wake Forest University mace, a handsome staff decorated with scenes and symbols of the University, was first used at the inauguration of President James Ralph Scales in April 1968. It is a traditional symbol of authority and is carried at the head of the academic processions at Commencement and convocations. The mace is shaped from a single sheet of silver covered with gold. It has an ebony handle. Etchings of Wait Chapel, Reynolda Hall, an arch at an entrance to the campus, and the cupola on the Z. Smith Reynolds Library are on the largest, or middle, section. Pictures of the Old Campus are on the top section. On the bottom are panoramas of the medical school, Carswell Hall and the skyline of Winston-Salem. Each section is separated by raised drawings of magnolias. A double-cast seal of the University is at the top of the mace. The mace was given by Tom Davis of Winston-Salem in honor of his father, Egbert Lawrence Davis (LLB 1904).

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE

The Presidential Chain of Office is part of the academic regalia worn by the President at Commencement and convocations. It is a goldplated necklace of medallions linked by onyx-centered magnolia blossoms. On each medallion is the name of a former Wake Forest president and the years of his tenure. The Chain of Office was a gift to the University in 1991 from Weston P. Hatfield ('41), a life trustee and former chair of the Board of Trustees.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia apparently originated at Oxford and Cambridge more than 600 years ago. The apparel is little changed in design, colors, and symbolism. In no other sector are the ancient usages of the university so unchanging. In 1895 an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of academic caps, gowns, and hoods in the United States. Over the years there have been only minor revisions to the code, which is followed by 95 percent of the colleges and universities in America, including Wake Forest.

Gowns, which according to the tradition, are all black (Harvard, Princeton, and Yale are exceptions), are of three kinds. The bachelor's gown is a comparatively simple kind that falls in straight lines from an elaborate yoke. The master's gown is similar to the bachelor's except for its peculiar arrangement of the long sleeves with square ends that hang below the elbow. The doctor's gown is an elaborate, full-cut, flowing costume distinguished by velvet panels down the front and around the neck and by three bars of velvet on the bell-shaped sleeves.

The academic hood was literally a garment to protect the wearer from foul weather. It is the identifying symbol of the degree. The length indicates which degree it represents: three feet for the bachelor's, three and a half for the master's, and four for the doctoral. The lining indicates the college or university which awarded the degree. Those who receive degrees from Wake Forest wear hoods lined in old gold and black. The color of the trimming identifies the major field of learning: white for arts and letters, copper for journalism, purple for law, green for medicine, drab for business, pink for music, silver-gray for speech, dark blue for philosophy, light blue for education, sage green for physical education, golden yellow for science, cream for social science, and scarlet for theology.

The Wake Forest University trustees wear black robes with old gold and black on the front panels and the bars on the sleeves. The shield from the University seal is embroidered on the front panels.

Some universities have duplicated colors, but generally a glance at the lining, which is worn exposed, will identify the awarding institution. Some of the university colors worn today are:
