I Spy… a MOA Scavenger Hunt

Go to the exhibit called “World Textiles”

I spy with my little eye… something that looks like this…

What is it? ______________________________________

What is it? ______________________________________

What is it? ______________________________________

What is it? ______________________________________
Go to the exhibit called
“Vienna: A City of Cultural and Contrast”

I spy with my little eye… something that looks like this…

What is it? ________________________________________

Who is it? __________________________________________

What is it? _________________________________________

What is it? _________________________________________

What is it? _________________________________________
Go to the exhibit called “Escape the Museum: Central Africa.”

I spy with my little eye… something that looks like this…

What is it? ____________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________
Go to the exhibit called “Professor Deacon’s Cultural Cabinet.”

I spy with my little eye… something that looks like this…

What is it? ____________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________
Go to the exhibit called “Childhood: Exploring Youth Culture Around the World.”

I spy with my little eye… something that looks like this…

What is it? ____________________________________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________________________________

What is it? ____________________________________________________________________
Go to the exhibit called “How Do They Know? The Science of Archaeology in the Yadkin River Valley.”

I spy with my little eye... something that looks like this...

What is it? ________________________________

What is it? ________________________________

What is it? ________________________________

What is it? ________________________________

What is it? ________________________________